

Botanical Garden

The Municipal Botanical Garden occupies an area of 3.140 sq.m., it is located within the Flisvos Park and besides being a green oasis for residents and citizens of the city, it already functions as a reception center and a showroom for the schools and students who visit it and are guided through predetermined paths in thematic plant sections.

The plants grown (60 species, 4,240 plant roots) carry informative signs that contain information about their identity and usefulness, making the visitor aware of environmental and ecological issues.

The spatial configuration of the space was a complex task, as the planting of the Botanical garden had to combine the different types of plants with their particular climatic conditions.
